

Symptoms of Vision Problems (Please check all that apply)

- Skips lines when reading or copying
- Loses place while reading or copying
- Skips words while reading or copying
- Substitutes words while reading or copying
- Rereads words or lines
- Reverses letters, numbers or words
- Uses a finger or marker to keep place while reading/writing
- Reads very slowly
- Poor comprehension
- Difficulty remembering what has been read
- Holds head too close when reading/writing (within 7-8 in.)
- Squints, closes, or covers one eye while reading
- Unusual posture/head tilt when reading/writing
- Headaches following intense reading/computer work
- Eyes feel hurt or tired after reading
- Feels unusually tired after completing a visual task
- Double vision
- Vision blurs at distance when looking up from near work
- Letters or lines "run together" or words "jump" when reading
- Print seems to move or go in and out of focus when reading
- Poor spelling skills
- Writing is crooked or poorly spaced
- Misaligns letters or numbers
- Makes errors copying
- Difficulty tracking moving objects
- Unusual clumsiness, poor coordination
- Difficulty with sports involving good eye-hand coordination
- Eyes turn in or out
- Sees more clearly with one eye rather than the other.
- Feels sleepy when reading
- Dislikes tasks requiring sustained concentration
- Avoids near tasks such as reading
- Confuses right and left directions
- Becomes restless when working at school or while doing homework
- Tends to lose awareness of surroundings when concentrating
- Must "feel" things to see them
- Carsickness
- Unusual blinking
- Unusual eye rubbing
- Dry eyes
- Watery eyes
- Red eyes
- Eyes bothered by light
- Homework takes longer than it should

Patient Name: _____ Parent Name: _____ Date: _____